

Advertise without any risk: Try for free and determine the price yourself if you wish to continue!

Pay as much as you think your ad is worth to you: We would like to provide value to you and charge a fair price. We gladly put your logo and a slogan for free on flatsforexpats.com for the duration of two weeks. After this you decide if you would like to continue advertising on flatsforexpats.com and how much it is worth to you. There is no obligation to continue after the free trial period.

If we find a deal we will continue showing your logo and slogan the same way we showed it during the test period so you can expect similar results. We would prefer a 12-month duration deal after the trial period. Renewals will only be done after your confirmation. We are sure you will offer a fair price for your ad, however, we reserve the right to reject offers if we don't feel it's fair.

Full transparency: Number of clicks and Google Analytics-statistics

In order for you to be able to make an informed decision about if you would like to advertise with us or not, not only we offer a free test period but also we show you the Google Analytics-Statistics of our traffic of the last months and we provide you the number of clicks your ad gets/got. You find the Google-Statistics below.

We are proud of our highly focused customer segment: expats in Switzerland looking for an apartment. Most of them are likely to be new in Switzerland and might be interested in your services!

Currently flatsforexpats.com attracts over 4000 unique visitors, about 5500 visits and well over 15000 page views per month
